The Times . . . They Are Changing

As the inhabitants of this planet
Moved into the 70's,
They gazed into the heavens.
Neil Armstrong walked on the moon,
And it was to be, "One small step for a man,
One giant leap for mankind."
However, unity ceased as people
Came down to earth.
Countries were again divided
By prejudices, hatred, and problems.
Citizens of the United States
Remembered! Viet Nam, a festering sore . . .
Students marched, asking for change.
South Adams' pupils also wondered,
"What has happened here?"
Nothing remains the same.
Outward structures were changed:
Milk cartons, automated french fries,
Music and basketball uniforms,
Disposable graduation gowns, plans
For a new school . . .
Inward structures changed too,
Modular scheduling, and even more
Important, our inner selves.
Outlooks were altered by age and experience.
So sit down
And see what was
That passed so quickly by -
"For the Times . . . they are changing."

Dedication

As we shared our discoveries he listened. As we faced frustrating obstacles he made us think for ourselves. Throughout his four years at S.A., and our four years of high school he has contributed to our knowledge of life even as he extended our biological curriculum. In this manner, we, the Senior Class of '70, wish to express our appreciation as we dedicate this issue of REFLECTION to you, Mr. Larry Sheets.

ACTIVITIES

Homecoming Festivities for 1969 began with a parade through town complete with class floats, queen candidates and bands. Despite the fact the Stars lost the game to the Knights, the day was a big success. Deb Spichiger was crowned Homecoming Queen with Jana Jones, Marty Minnich, Susie Fulton, Lora Lehman and Mari Wulliman composing her court. Following the FFA chicken barbeque, a dance featuring the Wall Street Journal was held in the gym. A fountain with gold fish, palms and a velvet throne composed the decor. The day seemed to end much too quickly as days do when people are happy.

Convocations, breaks in the routine school day, were always met with enthusiasm. Topics varied from sex to pollution. Musical groups played and sang pop, classical and religious pieces. A film, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," also provided the needed change in the daily schedule. The increase in convocations this year has been significant. Even more meaningful "convos" are anticipated for the future.

The frustration of learning scripts vanished as the actors performed for the appreciative audiences. Two plays which included "Cinderella" and "My Host the Ghost" made their debuts at Geneva. "Like Father Like Son," "Spring Fever," "Pin-Up Pals," and "Cinderella" opened at Berne. The speech department offered this opportunity for dramatic expression.

Hypotheses Taken to Science Fair

The science fair involved many hours of investigation for students. Their work was rewarded as they received trophies and knowledge. Reflecting the trend of the day, Joanne Sprunger's grand prize project concerned the effects of drugs. Second place in the Senior biological section was given to Rick Culp and Mark Conrad who worked with coccidiosis. In the physical division, Steve Garboden and Ed Liechty won first for their gas chromatography project. Bruce Weimer, with light diffraction, placed second.

Sweetheart Banquet

On the evening of February 14, the Sunshine Society held its annual Sweetheart Banquet. The school cafeteria was decorated in accordance with the theme of "Our Winter Love." A nineteenth century sleigh with green velvet cushions was the dominant feature in the decor. Prior to the banquet the girls and their dates could have their pictures taken by a photographer. Following the meal of steak, baked potatoes, combination salad, corn, and strawberry shortcake, the couples were entertained by a trio from the IU-Purdue Regional Campus at Fort Wayne.

SABB Unites With Music

Right: Brass musicians use "lung" power.

Despite bus and dress code controversies, SABB completed its eleventh annual program. Dr. Andrew Harper led the choir. The receptive group was intrigued with his manner and bowing technique. Under the direction of Dean Depoy, the bands, long rehearsed, performed admirably. For a time, music bridged the chasm of sports rivalry.

Below: With nary a squeak, clarinet players concentrate on music.

". . . Give Earth a Chance."

DDT deaths, gas masks, soap suds, beer cans, snakes, television, music and slides were all a part of SA's Teach-In. The varied presentations had one purpose: to promote awareness of pollution. Ernest Lesiuk and Jerry Colglazier, as speakers, helped provide basic information. Also, discussion for high school and elementary students gave the iniation for action. We only hope that this new concern for our environment is not too late.

Jr. Sr. Prom

Crossing the bridge, Juniors and Seniors walked into the scene of an oasis. With little hesitation, the movie "Wait Until Dark" began, accompanied by screams and shivers. From the "shack," food was elegantly served and gratefully devoured. The IU-Purdue Swingers then took the stage and attention. Following more refreshments, Hickey presentations were made. All in all, the night was enjoyable, except to some goldfish who expired.

After twelve years' preparation graduation finally came. Although it was a sticky afternoon and night, many people gathered for the event. At baccalaureate, Rev. Wiederkehr spoke. Two honor students discussed the future at commencement. In the midst of yellow roses, purple gowns, and diplomas, Seniors beamed, realizing they were now "graduates."

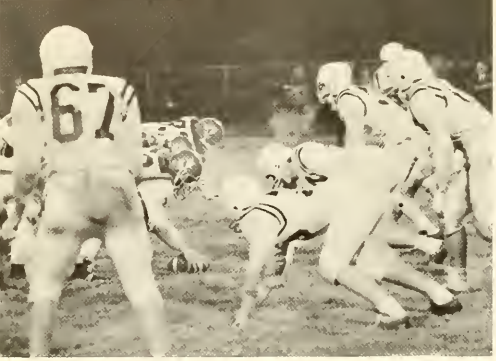
ATHLETICS



Varsity Football

The varsity football team ended its season with a record of 2-7. Although winning few games, the young team received practical football knowledge. The team fought hard but ultimately came out one step behind their opponents as the game finished. Leading the team were Seniors Mike Van Emon, Tim Lehman, Mike Mertz and Junior, Jim Buckingham. All of these players made the NEIC team.

The football cheerleaders are seldom given the praise that they deserve. Our girls this year did a fine job of instilling enthusiasm into the fans and team on cold winter nights. For those Fridays and Saturday afternoons, we appreciate their work.

Pep Club, "We've Got the Fever!"

During the school year, the Pep Club, led by able cheerleaders, has instilled spirit in the basketball and football teams at rousing pep sessions. The club's enthusiastic support was not, however, confined to pep sessions. Its' members, dressed in Starfire gold and white, backed our teams at home and away games. The support, enthusiasm, and school spirit of the Pep Club has been a credit to South Adams all year long.

The Starfire basketball team ended their season with a record of 7-14. However, Many games were lost by less than ten points and several by only two points. The team was led by Seniors Rick Stanley, Mike Van Emon, and Rick Culp. Culp provided much rebounding strength while Van Emon led the team in scoring. Several Juniors and a few fine Sophomores also helped the team immensely. Two members of the team, Culp and Van Emon, were named to the all - NEIC teams.

Basketball Cheerleaders Score With Fans

The cheerleaders, unsung Heroines of the basketball court, have given many hours working for perfection. This season began, however, with Linda Nussbaum spraining her ankle. For the first few games, she hobbled along on crutches. Their dedication was evident as they suffered bruised bodies and hoarse throats. The cheerleaders created enthusiasm which was delivered to the players by the pep club.

B-Team Acquires Laurels

The reserve basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Stahly, had a very successful season. In addition to a winning record, the team won the holiday tourney. The team also supplied necessary talent and manpower at times for the varsity team.

The team was relatively inexperienced, but the enthusiasm of coaches Sprunger and Leistner inspired the boys to one of the best seasons in the school's history. They were led by Seniors Bob Garringer, Ron Habegger and Ed Liechty. However several others, including Juniors and underclassmen had good springs. In the course of the year four school records fell, and the team had eight boys to run in the sectional at Fort Wayne North Side. Important victories included the Dunkirk Relays and the Adams County Meet.

Starfires Fan Opposition

The baseball team wound up a successfull season with an NEIC record of 5-1. With a few breaks the team could have easily won the NEIC crown and sectional title. However, the Stars came up one short on each occasion. The team was led by the pitching of Bob Haines and the hard hitting and good fielding of seniors Rick Culp, Mike Van Emon, John Muselman, Kendall Lehman, and Larry Flueckiger. The reserves also had a 5-1 record.

The A Cappella Choir once again made many appearances this year under the direction of Dr. Freeman Burkhalter. In addition to school concerts, they performed in SABB and in WKJG's annual television Christmas program. New uniforms this year contributed to group spirit. The choir received a superior rating at state contest.

Freshman and Sophomore Choirs

Dr. Burkhalter has high hopes for a future A Cappella after directing a successful year for the Freshman and Sophomore Choirs. Displaying good resonance and lots of diaphragm action, the choirs participated in the Pops Concert and numerous practice sessions.

Symphonic Band #1 at State Contest

Under the capable direction of Don Gerig and Gene Knoch, the high school bands had a very good year, all winning first at state contest in their divisions. The bands also played at various school concerts. The Marching Starfires participated in Ball State's Band Day and various parades.

Orchestra: A Cultural Experience

The orchestra was directed by Dr. Freeman Burkhalter. In addition to various concerts during the year, the group also performed at state contest at Knox, Indiana, in which they received a second place rating. Our high school orchestra is one of the few in the state.

ORGANIZATIONS

The ideas of "dominant pictures, columns, ten picas copy and cutlines," became the blueprints for the construction of the yearbook. These attempts for a unique book, both frustrated and excited the staff. The editors, especially, worked during lunch, free periods, through classes and after school to deliver this edition of the Reflection.

The Student Council, South Adam's Student government, sponsored the Homecoming festivities, a parade, a dance with the "Wall Street Journal" group from Bluffton, the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter convocations, the showing of the "Unsinkable Molly Brown," and a sock-hop after the first basketball game. The Council helped work on the new school furnishings, set up the Student Community Chest, and organized the Teach-In on Pollution. The members of the organization were in charge of a dance in March featuring "The Story," and also of concessions at athletic events.

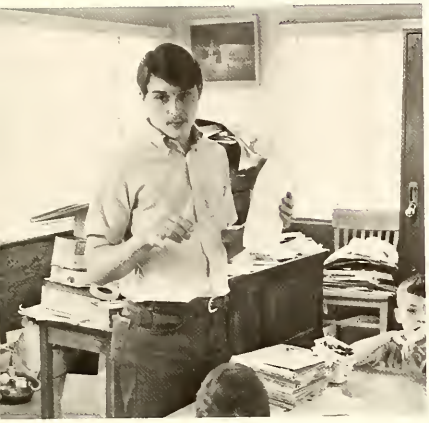
Cadet Teaching - A Learning Process



Thirteen Seniors interested in teaching as a career gained classroom insights as they aided instructors. The semester of training included class instruction, research and the grading of papers. With the responsibilities came the recognition on children's faces as they greeted "teacher."

Probably one of the busiest organizations at South Adams has been the Future Farmers of America. In addition to holding its annual Chicken Barbeque at Homecoming, the FFA took part in the Farm Progress Show, toured Chicago, attended Wilmington College Day at Wilmington, Ohio and the State Convention at Purdue University. They also tended the school farm which consisted of corn and hay.

FHA: Pleasurable Practicality

Right: Judy Sprunger, Charlotte Schaadt, and Jean Sprunger provide much pleasure for the snitiching Student Body.

The national theme of the FHA was "Decisions That Count." In keeping with this theme, programs covered sex, job training, marriage, and religion. In the field of community services, the FHA helped with the Heart Fund Drive. The members enjoyed the Ma, Pa, and Me Night, a basketball game challenging the FHA, and several parties.

The Ham Radio Club, a new organization at SA, teaches students to understand radio theory and to become ham radio operators. During the year the club members have studied radio theory and practiced Morse code to prepare for Amateur Radio Licenses. They experimented with building several amateur radio transmitters which were used to contact other hams.

Industrial Cooperative Training is vocational training provided jointly by the school and area business and industry. This program gives the student an opportunity to choose an occupation and recieve specific training in this field. Related classes are taught at the school as most students work half days. The ICT program enables the student to receive vocational training while completing high school.

The Business Office Education Program is a combined study and on-the-job training program designed to improve the efficiency of students in clerical occupations. A mutually planned working arrangement between school and employer allows the student to work fifteen hours per week as he receives classes related to his work and credit toward graduation.

The Occupational Training Program in Home Economics is also a study-and on-the-job training program aimed at training students for occupations such as child-care assistants, food service workers, clothing service, companions to the elderly, house-keeping aides, etc. These students must also work a minimum of fifteen hours a week (at least 50% during school hours) for which they receive minimum pay.

Four different bowling club groups met during activity periods this year. The Monday, Wednesday, and Friday groups were sponsored by Mr. Leistner, and the Thursday group by Mr. Huser. The purpose of the club is to develop students' prowess in bowling and to find enjoyment and relaxation through bowling.

The Society's Events included the initiation ceremony, a breakfast for the teachers, Daddy Date Night, Sweetheart Banquet, Senior Supper, Ideal Ladies Tea, a trip to Riley Hospital, coatcheck, and monthly service programs at Swiss Village and the Berne Nursing Home. A Vietnamese orphan was supported also. Cindy Moser received the Sunshine Nurses' Scholarship at the State Convention at Crown Point, a first for Adams County.
